FOREST KING SICK BUT A WINNER.

D. L. Parrish's Crack Saddle Horse Takes Blue Ribbon in Gaited Saddle Ring.

THREATENED WITH PNEUMONIA

Colonel Hughes's Entries Get First in the Tandem Class-Attendance Better Than on Previous Nights.

Forest King, D. L. Parrish's crack saddle forse, is game to the core. He was a very sick horse last night, but made an excel lent showing in the ring for the best gaited saddle stallion, mare or gelding, carrying off the blue ribbon over the, Red Bud, Kentucky's Artist, Highland Chief and other

While going through his maneuvers, the horse coughed repeatedly. After the ribbons were tied and Forest King had been led back to his stall, a veterinarian made pr examination of the horse. His temperature was 104, and his pulse very low. The lanimal's condition was pronounced serious and the chances are that Forest King will not be in condition to be shown against Rex McDonald and The Frenchman in the championship class Saturday night.

Mr. Parrish's horse is threatened with pneumonia. He caught a slight cold while being shipped here from Kansas City Sun-day night, and since the cool weather arrived, there has been a constant draught

One of the most interesting rings of the evening was the class for tandems. Colonel Hughes of Colorado carried off the blue ribbon with a magnificent pair of bay reldings. D. R. Calhoun's entry was second while G. Lucey Crawford's high-stepping pair of mares, Grace Simmons and Geraldine were placed third, Mr. Crawford's aidine, were placed third, Mr. Crawford's team was exhibited by J. S. Bratton.

Liveryman James Hardy became very angry over the manner in which the ribbons were tied in the heavy-harness class which preceded the jumping ring, and declared nimself in no uncertain terms. One of his sons walked into the arena and refused to accept the white ribbon placed on his father's team, Charles Joy and Tony Steaver. The cleer Hardy was finally perstaded to leave the building by Manager John R. Gentry.

LIMBS CRUSHED BY CAR.

Mrs. Christina Seifert, 79 years old, of No. 1506 South Eighth street, while crossing the tracks of the Southern electric division of the St. Louis Transit Company's lines, at Elghth and Carroll streets, was struck by car No. 8 of that division yesterday. The wheels passed over her right leg above the ankle, and over the left foot.

Mrs. Seifert was removed to the City Hospital, and yesterday the liquired right leg and part of the left foot were ampatized. It was feared by Dootor Nieteri, that, because of her age, she could not recover. The accident occurred about 16 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Selfert was slowly crossing the car tracks, but somehow falled to notice the car, which was bearing down upon her. The motorman was running at high speed, but rang his gong hard when he realized that the woman did not see the car. She was struck on the side and knesked down. The fender shoved her partly off the rails, but her limbs were caught and crushed under the wheels.

The car was manned by Conductor John W. Weck and Motorman H. T. Brown. They assisted in carrying the woman into a near-by drug store after she was hurt. All the time she monaned with the pain, though the shock seemed to have left her in a semicomatose condition.

"The following statements are based on average weather conditions for November, as determined by long series of observations. As the weather of any given November does not conform strictly to the average conditions, the statements cannot be considered as forecasts.

"In its general character, November weather forms a mean between the heat of late summer and early fall and the cold of winter; and in marked contrast to the severe storms of August, September and October, the weather in the tropical and subtropical regions of the Atlantic Ocean is usually settled and fine. In the Pacific Ocean and on the southeastern coasts of Asia, the typhoon season is nearing its end. In the Middie latitudes of the oceans, the winds become stronger and blow more steadily from the northwest, shifting to west, southwest and south as a given parellel is followed from their western to their west, southwest and south as a given paral-lel is followed from their western to their eastern shores. The storms encountered in the middle latitudes are not so strong as the tropical-bred storms of the preceding months nor the storms which occur during the winter season. The southward flow of arctic ice in the Atlantic has ceased and but little fog is encountered in the Transat-lantic steamship routes near Newfound-land.

"In the United States, the Pacific Coast wet season begins in October and the rain-fall increases until December. Over the middle and northern plateau regions there middle and northern plateau regions there is an increase in rainfail as compared with the summer and early fail months, except in Utah, where the rainfall is less than in October. In Arizona and New Mexico, November is dry as compared with the summer months. In Montana November is one of the driest months of the year.

"In the great corn and wheat growing districts of the central valleys there is a gradual diminution in rainfall from summer to midwinter. In the East Guif and South Atlantic States, November rainfalls are commonly light, and in the west guif districts they fail short of the summer average. From the lake regions and Ohio Valley over the Middle Atlantic and New England States there is a general, though not well marked, decrease in rainfall from midsummer to midwinter.

"In the interior of the Guif and South Atlantic States garden truck is subject to decrease by frost and damaging frost is is an increase in rainfall as compared with lantic States garden truck is subject to damage by frost, and damaging frost is likely to occur in Central and Northern Florida in November."

His funeral will take place this morning from the Evangelical Church at Stratmann.

Mr. Roswag was born in Germany, April 12, 1819 and had lived in St. Louis County for the last hair century. He was engaged in farming and fruit growing and amassed a comfortable fortune. His wife died nearly a quarter of a century ago.

For the last three years Mr. Roswag had worn the gold medal awarded by the St. Louis County Gid Settlers' Association to its oldest member. Fresident Shores and the other officials of the association will attend the funeral in a body. o quarter the army near large cities and countries must think of are the wild, un-reasoning insurrections and mobs. It was wise thing for the merchants of Chicago a wise thing for the merchants of Chicago to give a tract of land to the national Government, who fortified it, and it is now called Fort Sheridan. We have heard of disturbances in Chicago. We hope, however, that we shall never have any again, but we know the best way not to have them is to be prepared for them. So I say we shall need a large army to stand back of municipal authority. In the last resort, if a single company of blue coats marches around the corner with their steady, solemn steps the mob disperses because they know steps the mob disperses because they know they are men who shoot when ordered to. It is simply a business with them. No Gov-ernment is free from the possibility of re-sorting to force."

ST. BERNARD DOG IN JAIL.

Whom It Was Stolen.

In cell No. 2 of the Fourth District Police Station the handsomest prisoner that has ever come under the care of the police, was held yesterday. His name was just plain Dan, and he scratched for fleas and wagged Dan, and he scratched for fleas and wagged his tail in good nature.

Dan is a huge St. Bernard dog. Dan is worth $200, but his owner, Mr. J. W. Bergfeld, who lives at 2007 Newstead avenue, would not sell him at any price. He has already paid out $100 in rewards for Dan on the various occasions of the dog's disappearance. And after all that Dan is ungrateful.

on the various occasions of the dog's disappearance. And after all that Dan is ungrateful.

Last night Dan refused to leave the jall in which Henry Williams, a Scotchman, suspected of having stolen him, was confined, Mr. Bergfeld coaxed and ordered; Dan slunk away to whine before the bars of cell No. 6, where Williams, recovering from a spree, stretched out a rough hand.

Williams had been employed by Mrs. Fannie Embree of No. 2331 Cook avenue, with whom Dan had been boarding, because of the large yard. But Thursday evening Williams was discharged for allesed intoxication. Yesterday afternoon Officer Bunting of the Fourth District, arrested both the Scotchman and the St. Bernard, charging the former with offering his companion for sale at the miserly price of $\frac{1}{2}$ for Frankila avenue.

When placed in separate cells the two prisoners howled in unison. And when Turnkey Roger Harty took away Williams's allowance of bologna and gave it to the dog. "Dinna ye persecute the beastie," pleaded the Scotchman.

About 10 o'clock Mr. Bergfeid arrived, in response to a request that he reclaim his property, for Sergeant McFarland was "in dread of the habeas corpus act" for nolding Dan prisoner without charge or warrant. Mr. Bergfeid paid his respects to the dog in the latter's room, but Dan only glanced up in a 1-don't-know-you air and then dashed through the open door toward the willy Scot.

Mr. Bergfeid will swear out a warrant this morning, charging Williams with theft and alienation of his dog's affections.

Mr. Bergfeld will awear out a warrant this morning, charging Williams with theft and alienation of his dog's affections.

DESTITUTION RELIEVED.

Publication in The Republic Brought Help to Mrs. Laller.

Through The Republic, which told yesterday morning of the destitute condition of Mrs. Mary Lailer and her three children, recently from Galveston, Tex., who spent Wednesday night in Union Station, a dozen persons, moved to charity by the account, went to the station yesterday and gave the woman from it to Steach. The total benefit amounted to $20, and it was enough to send the family on their way to their final destination—Shawneetown, Ill.

Anoter family in an unhappy state arrived in the station yesterday morning. They came from Campbell, Mo., and are bound for Adelphi, O., where they have relatives. There are five in the party, Mrs. Mary Walders and her four little brothers and sisters. They are penniless and have been dependent for a long time upon the charity of philanthropic persons of Campbell.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Morehouse, Mo., Nov. 1.—J. W. D. Pierce,
Republican, of Chicago, and Lon Williams,
Democrat, of Scott County, Missouri, met here last night in a joint discussion.
Pierce was scored on every point, and his talk did not meet with approval, while Williams was loudly applauded. Pierce said the Democrats had looted the School Fund, and Williams made it plain that the School Fund was in good condition. The meeting closed with cheers for Bryan and Dockery.

SUES FOR DIVORCE AT ELEVEN YEARS.

If Mrs. Minnie Gill Wins She Will Be Youngest "Grass Widow" in Kentucky.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 1.-The Brandenburg Messenger reports the case of a 11year-old wife, who is suing for a divorce, as

"Mrs. Minnie Gill vs. Harry Gill. If Mrs. Gill is successful in securing her wants she will be the youngest "grass widow" in the State, as she is only 11 years old." The youthful marriage is not confined to

Meade County. The Owensbero Messenger's correspondent at Island, McLean County, writes: "Mr. Bert Phaup and Miss Minnie Barnard were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nath Bolton, Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock, by the Rev-Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock, by the Reverend William Tate. The bride is 13 and the groom is 16 years old."

Over in Jassamine County, only a short time since, a youth of 13 was married to a maid of 12, the parents of both being present at the ceremony. On the way home the mother of the bride started a "roughhouse," as it were, because she objected to the youngsters riding in the same vehicle, and the police had to be appealed to to prevent a serious climax.

ROOSEVELT'S EXPLANATION.

Didn't Mean to Offend the Society of Friends in His Book. of Friends in His Book.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. I.—in response to many letters received by Governor Roosevelt from members of the Society of Friends relative to a circular issued some weeks ago under date of Philadelphia, quoting the Governor's opinion regarding Friends and nonresistance people in his "Life of Thomas H. Benton," the Governor to-day made public his answer.

The aforesaid circular was distributed among the members of the Society of Friends throughout Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio, Maryland and New York, and was addressed to the friendly voters.

The sentence quoted in the circular is as addressed to the friendly voters.

The sentence quoted in the circular is as follows:

"A class of professional noncombatants is as hurtful to the real healthy growth of a mation as is a class of fire eaters; for a weakness or folly is nationally as bad as a vice, or worse, and in the long run a Quaker may be quite as undesirable a citizen as a duelist.

"No man who is not willing to bear arms and fight for his rights can give a good reason why he should be entitled to the privilege of living in a free country."

The answer is addressed to William F. Waiton of Baltimore, Md., and in it the Governor says: Refuses to Go With Master From Walton of Baltimore, Md., and in it the Governor says:

"The sentence of mine which is complained of, and which was written fifteen years ago, was intended to express my disagreement both with the man who acts on inadequate provocation and of the man who, on adequate provocation, falls to act. It would be untrue to say that I have altered my convictions in the matter, but were I to now rewrite the sentence I should certainly so phrase it that it could not be construed as offensive to the Society of Friends, a body whose social virtues and civic righteousness justly commanded universal respect."

COCKRAN AT BALTIMORE.

With Governor Pattison He Closed Democratic Campaign There. Democratic Campaign There.

Baltimore, Nov. L.—W. Bourke Cockran of New York and former Governor Pattison of Pennsylvania were the star attractions at the final raily of the Democrats, which took place at Music Hall here to-night.

Governor Pattison, who was the first speaker, took the ground that the present administration, in its foreign policy, had violated the preamble to the Constitution and, by fostering and promoting trusts, is has helped to crush individual enterprise.

Mr. Cockran discussed the Philippines policy of the administration at considerable length.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—The Westphalian Zeitung says that the North German Lloyd Steam-ship Company has ordered more than a thousand tons of structural iron in the United States for its workshops and foun-dry, as against Westphalian competition.
